"I just loafe around the house for more than a month before I decided to start a hobby to keep my hands and mind busy," Ramsey said while showing many of his wooden creations.

Because he was told a hobby would be mentally beneficial to him, Ramsey decided to recreate part of his life on the farm by building the smartly designed wagons and horses, complete with tiny harnesses which were made of hand-cut leather.

Carving knives and a saw are used by Ramsey to cut the horses from a pattern drawn by Phillip Reid, Ramsey's next-door neighbor.

The horses are made of white pine wood while the wagons are built from scrap wood which is gathered at the cabinet shop where Ramsey worked. The horses even have manes and tails of real cow hair that was given to Ramsey by one of his tenants.

The middle-aged man explained that each wagon as designed that each wagon as designed removed easily just like the real wagons used on the farm where he grew up.

The creations are then fastened to a small dark-wood table and placed on display in the dining room.

Horses and wagons aren't the only wood carving talents of the craftsman. A dark wood spinning wheel which Ramsey designed with a flower vase in the middle of the base sits in the living room attracting the attention of friends when they come to visit the couple.

Other novelties made by Ramsey include napkin holders, wooden "steamer" keys for holding other keys, small boards used in ironing shirt sleeves, and even a ukulele.

"I sure don't like sitting around home and not being able to work," said Ramsey, "but I thank God that He has been with me through all this."

Mr. Lloyd Vaughan, Editor Times-Virginian

Appomattox, Virginia

Dear Mr. Vaughan:

As President of the Appomattox Junior Woman's Club I wish to express the appreciation of the club members for the fine cooperation we receive from your newspaper. The amount of space given annually to our club projects is inestimable, especially the space given to us in advertising our recent Miss Appomattox Pageant. With all the communications media available these days, it is still the newspaper that puts information into our hands in retainable form—to be read, digested, and kept.

We want to especially recognize the most generous efforts and time that Mrs. Stimpson has given us in preparing the many and very informative articles about our pageant. I feel sure that without her wonderful cooperation, the pageant could not have been the success it was.

The Appomattox Junior Woman's Club is a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest group of organized women in the world, having 11,000,000 members in 500 clubs in the United States and in 54 other countries. Our Club has the privilege of choosing any project we wish to emphasize, always keeping in mind the needs of our local community, plus helping in numerous ways the many programs of the Federation.

Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, president of the General Federation has declared that the General Federation of Women's Clubs has always strongly advocated the freedom of the press and that it has never been more important than it is today when more than half the countries of the world live under a partial or complete blackout of news through censorship.

Again accept our deep thanks and all good wishes,

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Fred H. Lawson, President, Appomattox Junior Woman's Club.

Oakville

Mrs. Maggie Gardner had all her children home Sunday for dinner. Her grandchildren also. Louis Walker Moore has been moved to California. He is in the Air Force.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. A. W. Covington is not doing to well after his return from the hospital. His sister, Helen is with him. She is an R.N., of Roanoke.

We were glad to hear Saturday that Ann M. Bondurant was back home from the hospital doing fine. Her mother is still with her.

The W.S.C.S of Mt. Comfort Church and Men's Club will meet Thursday night at 7:30. Every member is expected to come.

Gladstone Co. Fight Fire

A recent house and brush fire completely destroyed a home owned by Bud Taylor on Route 26 — 2 miles south of Bent Creek. Gladstone Volunteer Fire Company, Chief Forest Warden David M. Smith, and local forest wardens and other volunteers answered the call. The home, rented by a colored family, and all its contents were destroyed. There was insurance on the home, according to Chief Forest Warden Smith. The family had no insurance on their possessions. Approximately two - thirds of an acre of timber and brush burned, also, Smith said.

Highway Safety Local 4-H Topic

The Junior 4-H Club met on April 2, 1964 in the High School lounge. The president called the meeting to order, followed by the pledge of allegiance and the 4-H pledge. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. Then the program was turned over to Miss Berger. She told us about camp dates and the District Demonstration Contest which will be held in Farmville April 25. After that she introduced our guest speaker, Mr. Netherland, from the State Police. He talked to us on highway safety. This talk gained our interest because of our age group, which is an age group for permits. The president then adjourned the meeting.

Trooper Speaks To Cyrus 4-H

Trooper Netherland and his dog, "Major", were the guests at Mrs. Cyrus's 4-H meeting, April 9, 1964 at 9 a.m. Mr. Netherland talked on "Safety."

The president, David Schrock called the meeting to order. Sandra Pitsenberger had devotions. Martha Moon read the Bible, and Betsey Jones led in the Pledge. Paul Harvey read the minutes of the last meeting. Miss Berger told us about 4-H Camp and our projects, Vicky Rogers and Evelyn Powell led in the singing of one song. Mr. Netherland gave his talk then.
